DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. This application claims the priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 based on priority application serial No. 00-64557, filed on 11/01/2000 in Republic of Korea.

Election/Restriction

2. Claims 10-42 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Elections were made without traverse in Paper No. 6 and 8.

In addition, claims 5-7 are also withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to an invention unreadable on Applicant's elected species. Claims 5-7 recite an ILD film comprising a first and a second insulation layers with different trench widths in them, respectively, which is readable on species of Figs. 5 and 9A-9D, but is not readable on the elected species of Figs. 4 and 8A-8D.

3. Accordingly, claims 1-42 are pending in this application; and claims 1-4, 8 and 9 remain active in this Office action.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 1-4, 8 and 9 are objected to because of the following informalities/defects:

The term of "a barrier layer deposited along an interlevel dielectric (ILD) film with a trench having lower width and a upper width" should read as --a barrier layer deposited along the bottom and side surfaces of a trench formed in an interlevel dielectric (ILD) film, wherein said trench having lower width and a upper width--, for better reflecting the subject matter that the barrier layer covers the bottom and side surfaces of the trench.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 2-4, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 2 recites a conductive layer, but fails to clarify what is the relationship between the conductive layer and the metal interconnection layer recited at the beginning of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-4, 8 and 9, insofar as being in compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Liaw et al. ("Liaw"; 5,554, 565).

Liaw discloses a semiconductor device (Fig. 1F; also see col. 2, lines 43-46, and col. 3, lines 25-29); comprising a metal interconnection layer (30; a tungsten conductive layer) having an upper portion with a first width and a lower portion with a second width, wherein the second width is wider than the first width.

Regarding claims 2-4, 8 and 9, the interconnection layer in Liaw further comprises a barrier layer (26; Ti/TiN) deposited along the bottom and side surfaces of a trench, wherein the trench is formed in an ILD (20; BPSG)

Furthermore, regarding claim 4, as shown in Fig. 1F, the thickness of the upper portion having narrower width (compared with that of the lower portion) is within the range of 20-70% of the thickness of the entire ILD film (20).

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References B-E are cited as being related to an interconnection structure.
